

I will tell you up front that I don't know much about LPFM but I do know that K-Love (88.1, 91.9, 88.9) and KGBI (100.7) are very important to me. Those are the stations I listen to 99.9% of the time. They really keep my spirits up when I need a lift and keep me calmed down when I feel like I'm about to lose it. They support the values that I want to instill in my children and they are always there for me. Not only when I turn on the radio, but I have called them when I have been in need of assistance of various kinds and they have even called me and asked if I would like them to be praying about anything for me. To me that seems to be far above and beyond the call of duty. I could seriously go on and on but I imagine you would like me to get to the point. I support both stations monetarily, that is how much I believe in them. I don't think I would be quite as stable of a person if they were gone. Also the things I learn and the ways I have grown because of their programming are really amazing. The fact that it is brought into my home through the radio is wonderful. It's hard enough to get out to the grocery store, much less get to personal growth seminars. So if I had to find this information and these insights outside of my home it just wouldn't happen. Basically, my life has been incredibly enriched because of K-Love and KGBI and I would not like to see their existence threatened by LPFM stations. Thank you for your time. I know it is precious, as is mine.
